

Statement from the Network on Humanitarian Action

In response to the unfolding migration crisis, the Network on Humanitarian Action (NOHA), international association of universities, while acknowledging the work being done by institutions, civil society organisations and individuals, reminds the European Union and its Member States of its founding values and calls upon them to meet their obligations according to international human rights law and refugee law.

Warsaw, 8 September 2015